Dedication Reading

As we come together this evening, let us pause for a moment to remember the many people gathered here who rebuilt this home with Vincent and his family and friends.

Let us remember the volunteers who have shared their spirit, their energy, their wisdom, and their time to help another realize his dream of not just receiving a safe and comfortable house but rebuilding a home. In bringing together the spirit of love, the gifts of service, and financial support we offer a renewed hope for this gentleman.

Today, we give thanks for more than a structure. We bless Vincent as he moves into this house rebuilt by his dreams and labor and of the generous, and wonderful volunteers and sponsors. It is Vincent who will complete the project. Only he can bring the memories of a life well-lived, and the family traditions of past generations that happened in this home. Not only will it hold the Gunning Family history, but now it will also safely and securely hold Vincent's brighter future.

And so in the spirit of life and love...we bless all those who are gathered here this evening.

Blessing in a Basket

We offer you flowers so that your home may always know beauty. Bread so your home may never know hunger. Salt to remind you that life should have a little zest. Sugar to remind you that life is sweet. A candle so your home never knows darkness. And a quilt so you will always be warm.
